Introduction: Quick Order

Searching for Products Today: Currently, Ecommerce provides the capability to search for a product using a search string entered into the Global Header search field at the top of the page.

A dark blue horizontal bar containing a search interface. On the left is a grey button with the text "Categories" and a downward-pointing chevron. To its right is a white search input field with the placeholder text "Enter Part Number / Keyword" and a magnifying glass icon on the right side.

Results matching either the Product Code or Product Description are returned in a multiple search results page listing all matches. The customer must select the product they wish to order and are then navigated to the Product Details page. If an exact match is made on only one product, the search results are returned to a single search results page listing the Product Details.

From the Product Details page, the customer may enter a Quantity and click the 'Add to Cart' button in order to add the product to their shopping cart.

A white rectangular area containing a form element. On the left is the text "Quantity" in bold. To its right is a small, empty white rectangular input field with a thin black border. Further to the right is a blue rectangular button with the white text "Add to Cart".

Note :

- Only search for a single product at any one time.
- You must navigate to the Product Details page in order to add products to their cart.

Quick Order

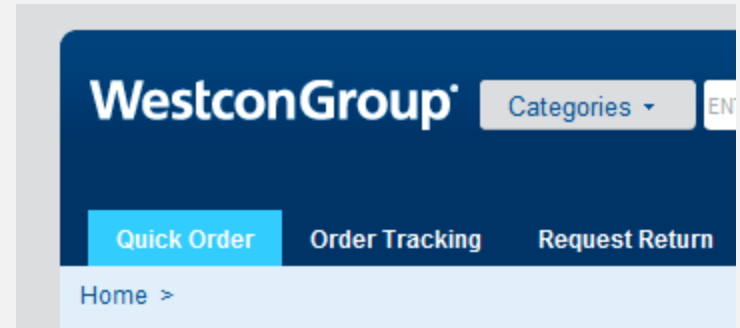

Accessing Quick Order: Customers who have buying privileges on Ecommerce will see a tab labeled 'Quick Order'.

The new Quick Order page provides the ability for customers to type or paste in a list of product codes and validate them.

Up to 20 products at a time may be entered on the Quick Order page. The customer may enter a Quantity for each product and click the 'Add to Cart' button in order to add all products to their shopping cart with a single click.

Benefits:

- Customers who know exactly which products they wish to order may directly enter them.
- Customers can enter the Quantity for each product and add all products to their shopping cart with a single click.
